Isha has a broad commercial litigation practice. She frequently appears in both the County Court and the Winding Up Court. She has appeared as sole counsel in the High Court for the final determination of a property dispute and is engaged as sole counsel in a commercial matter. Additionally, Isha acts as Junior Counsel on the Post Office Horizon IT Inquiry for the Government Legal Department (JJ Scheme).

Isha has worked on matters across a spectrum of practice areas within Chambers, encompassing group litigation, public inquiries, product liability, property, health and safety, employment, consumer credit, data protection, civil fraud, and harassment cases.

In 2023, Isha embarked on a one-month secondment with Griffiths and Partners in the Turks and Caicos Islands, gaining invaluable experience while working closely with the litigation team on a range of cases.

Isha graduated top of her year in Law at the University of York and has completed the BCL at the University of Oxford. She received the Queen Mother scholarship from Middle Temple. Isha has also spoken at the House of Lords. Before starting pupillage, she volunteered for the Citizens Advice Bureau.

Isha welcomes instructions in all practice areas within Chambers, both as sole and junior counsel.
